Commenting on the figures, Mark Tucker, AIA’s Group Chief Executive and President said:

“AIA has made a very positive start to 2011. The first quarter’s strong new business figures demonstrate AIA’s continued profitable growth momentum. Value of New Business, which is our stated primary performance measure, has increased 21% year-on-year. Our VONB margin has grown year-on-year by 130bps.

“This performance reflects the many actions we are taking to increase profitability. We are managing our product portfolio to improve new business value in all our operations across the region. We have launched targeted sales campaigns to promote AIA’s strong capabilities in helping consumers meet their protection needs and close the substantial protection gap that exists across our markets. We also continue to make good progress on the implementation of our Premier Agency strategy to increase agency productivity and enhance the customer’s sales experience.

“Asia’s structural growth drivers make it the most exciting region in the world in which to provide long-term savings and protection products. We believe that AIA’s distribution reach and product manufacturing expertise, strong financial profile, 100% ownership in 14 markets across Asia-Pacific and 100% focus on retail financial services provide a unique platform for future profitable growth.

“We continue to focus the entire organisation on capturing this tremendous opportunity for the benefit of our customers, shareholders and employees.”

SUMMARY FOR THE FIRST QUARTER

Operating conditions across our Asia-Pacific markets have remained favourable for life insurers during the first quarter of 2011.

However, the beginning of 2011 has been marked by natural catastrophes which have resulted in a devastating loss of life. While these events have had no material financial impact on our business, our thoughts are with the people affected as they go about recovering from the dreadful consequences of these tragedies.

Value of New Business (“VONB”) and VONB Margin

Value of New Business increased 21% year-on-year to US$182 million, with a 130bps increase in VONB Margin compared with the first quarter of 2010.

Product mix changes and repricing actions were the main drivers of the increased margin. The product mix was improved by increasing the range of protection options within products and also repricing selected traditional life products. We are eliminating lower margin products, concentrating on regular premium business and reducing back-end loaded product structures. Hong Kong, Thailand and China benefited from these actions in particular and Singapore gained from a switch to higher margin investment-linked products. As expected, there was a decline in Korea following a very strong comparative result in the first quarter of 2010 and as we continued to re-position our business there.

We continue to reinvest AIA’s strong cash flow generation in organic new business opportunities that generate net Group IRRs (“Internal Rates of Return”) of over 20%.

Annualised New Premium (“ANP”) and Total Weighted Premium Income (“TWPI”)

ANP has increased by 17% to US$512 million. Hong Kong and Singapore were particularly strong with growth in excess of 30%.

TWPI has increased by 12% to US$3,303 million. Thailand, Singapore, Malaysia, China and Other Markets⁵ all achieved double-digit increases in TWPI year-on-year.

We believe that TWPI provides a useful indicative measure of the pattern of potential emergence of IFRS operating profits for traditional business, as liabilities on traditional business are accrued when premium revenue is recognised.⁶

Outlook

We remain optimistic about market conditions for the remainder of 2011. The long-term drivers of organic growth across our Asia-Pacific geographies, both economic and structural, are firmly in place.

Our team has a proven track record of building profitable businesses in Asia and we will continue to execute our business plan to position all our businesses for sustained growth into the future.
